

The noise assessment states that the performance standard was met but compliance with building regulations falls to a building control officer.