Details of the pre-application advice received

E-mail correspondence;

Good afternoon Gareth

Sorry it took a while to get back to you about this enquiry. The conservation officer has sent over his comments. He has advised he most likely would have no objections to the proposal subject to an appropriate condition attached to any subsequent approval, securing samples of external facing bricks to be used and a details elevation showing the bond of the external brickwork to match the existing. There isn't really much else to advise really. Given the size and layout of the site the newly proposed single storey rear extension wouldn't be visible in the streetscene, so it would all depend on the design and whether it would match the existing property and the previously approved extensions.

Obviously this extension could not be built as a separate entity to the previously approved development so it might be a good idea if your client were to submit a new application in respect of what they have already had approved and for the hydro pool building. As it would be to serve a disabled resident there would be no fee for the planning application. As I said there isn't really much more I can advise at this stage. The plans you have submitted show that the new building should match what has already been approved. I would need to double check, but I think if you know what materials would be used in the construction you might be able to submit samples along with the application and that would do away with the need for a discharge of condition later on.

I am on annual leave now until 17th April so if you want any advice prior to my return you can email development.control@bury.gov.uk or alternatively you could contact Jane Langan on 0161 253 5316. Jane was the planning officer who dealt with the previous approved application so she may remember the site. Other than that we look forward to receiving a planning application.

Kind regards
Amanda

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
