

GMEU response

Would not regard a survey as required. We know gcn are present and the works are very minor. They should however take the advice of professional ecologist as to whether or not the works need a license or with precautionary working measures would suffice. (I would regard the latter as the more reasonable approach..

Ecologist

Planning and Transportation