

The proposed development involves the replacement of an existing poultry unit with a larger building. Whilst no changes to the drainage arrangements are proposed, the replacement building would result in an increase in impermeable roofing area.

The applicant should therefore provide a brief justification demonstrating that the increase in roof area would not adversely affect the existing drainage arrangements or increase flood risk on or off the site.