Proposal: First floor side extension

Location: 396 Parr Lane, Bury, BL9 8LZ

Description

The application relates to a detached dwelling with a conservatory extension at the rear. The property is located on 396 Parr Lane. The premises has an area of garden with a driveway to the front and a private garden space to the rear. On either side are property No.398 (south) and a MOT garage on the other side (north). Properties to the front and rear are situated over 20 metres from the site.

Planning permission is sought for the construction of a first-floor side extension. The extension would form an in-fill over the existing void to the rear. The extension would not project beyond the building's original footprint and would measure approximately 3.15 metres by 2.04 metres. The proposed development will accommodate one bedroom on the first floor. The proposal would have a pitched, hipped roof and utilise the use of matching materials.

Issues and Analysis

The following report includes analysis of the merits of the application against the relevant policies of both the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and the adopted Bury Unitary Development Plan (UDP) together with other relevant material planning considerations. The policies of the UDP that have been used to assess this application are considered to be in accordance with the NPPF and as such are material planning considerations. For simplicity, just the UDP Policy will be referred to in the report, unless there is a particular matter to highlight arising from the NPPF where it would otherwise be specifically mentioned.

Equality Act 2010: All planning applications are considered in light of the Equality Act 2010 and associated Public Sector Equality Duty, where the Council is required to have due regard for:

The elimination of discrimination, harassment and victimisation;

The advancement of equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and person who do not share it;

The fostering of good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and person who do not share it; which applies to people from the protected equality groups.

Human Rights: All planning applications are considered against the provisions of the Human Rights Act 1998.

Under Article 6 the applicants (and those third parties who have made representations) have the right to a fair hearing and to this end full consideration will be given to their comments.

Article 8 and Protocol 1 of the First Article confer a right to respect private and family life and a right to the protection of property, ie peaceful enjoyment of one's possessions which could include a person's home, and other land and business assets.

In taking account of the Council policy as set out in the Bury Unitary Development Plan 1997 and all material planning considerations, it is concluded on balance that the rights conferred upon the applicant/ objectors/ residents/ other interested party by Article 8 and Article 1 of the First Protocol may be interfered with, since such interference is in accordance with the law and is justified in the public interest. Any restriction of these rights posed by refusal/ approval of the application is legitimate since it is proportionate to the wider benefits of such a decision, is based upon the merits of the proposal, and falls within the margin of discretion afforded to the Council under the Town & Country Planning Acts.

The Crime and Disorder Act 1998 imposes (without prejudice to any other obligation imposed on it) a duty upon the Council to exercise its functions and have due regard to the likely effect of the exercise of its functions on, and the need to do all that it reasonably can to prevent crime and disorder in its area. In so doing and on making planning decisions under the Town and Country Planning Acts, the material Planning considerations shall have due regard to the provisions of the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 and its implications in the exercise of its functions.

Visual Amenity

SPD 6 and UDP Policy H2/3 seek to achieve a high standard of design that compliments the original building and does not have a detrimental impact on the character and appearance of neighbouring properties and the general street scene.

Situated at the rear the first-floor extension would not be visible from the street scene. The proposed development would form an in-fill extension that would not project beyond the principle elevations. The proposed development would have a pitched, hipped roof replicating the shape and style of the original and neighbouring properties. The proposed window would be considered suitably aligned and the slight set back and lower ridge height gives the impression of subservience. The use of matching materials is appropriate.

It is considered that the proposal would not have a detrimental impact on the character of the dwelling, street scene or neighbouring properties and would therefore comply with UDP Policy H2/3 and SPD 6.

Residential Amenity

SPD 6 and H2/3 seek to reduce the impact of proposals on the residential amenity of neighbouring properties.

- The proposed first floor side extension would not project beyond the principal rear elevation of the original dwelling.
- The proposed extension would be setback from the shared boundary with property No.398 Parr Lane and therefore, there would be no significant encouragement when the 45-degree rule is applied.
- There would be no windows proposed facing towards No. No.398 Parr Lane.
- The proposed rear window would be located approximately 18 metres from the directly facing rear boundary exceeding the 10 metres required by SPD 6.

Parking

The proposal will result in one additional bedroom on the first floor, however there will be no changes to site access, or parking. The driveway at its current condition meets the maximum parking requirements.

Statement in accordance with Article 35(2) Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) (Amendment) Order 2015

The proposal complies with the development plan and would improve the economic, social and environmental conditions of the area. It therefore comprises sustainable development and the Local Planning Authority worked proactively and positively to issue the decision without delay. The Local Planning Authority has therefore implemented the requirement in Paragraph 38 of the National Planning Policy Framework.
