Burnt House Farm, Turton Road, Bury: Ecology Update

To whom it may concern

Following a visit to the above site on 20th August to inspect the existing structure for barn owl, it is evident that the structure has not altered significantly in condition.

The use of the building by barn owl appears not to have changed. Indeed, it appears barn owl have not been using the structure recently as no fresh droppings or pellets were present.

The surrounding site has not altered significantly since the initial Preliminary Ecological Appraisal was undertaken in August 2022. For this reason I consider the assessment of impact and recommendations for mitigation and/or enhancement to remain valid.

Yours sincerely
