

We have looked at the noise report. We believe that there should be another penalty added, distinctiveness +3dB as we believe cows mooing is distinctive. However, with this penalty still added it would be a low impact as already stated, bringing the rating noise level above background noise level from -5dB to -2db.